6 Unique

CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS

From Around the World

1. GIANT LANTERN FESTIVAL, PHILIPPINES

Held each year on the Saturday before Christmas Eve in San Fernando, the "Christmas Capital of the Philippines", 11 villages compete at the festival to try to build the most elaborate lantern, some as large as six metres in size!

2. KENTUCKY FRIED CHRISTMAS DINNER, JAPAN

A fairly new (and quirky) "tradition" has gained popularity in recent years - a Christmas Day Feast of Kentucky Fried Chicken - with KFC Japan restaurants providing a festive-themed menu!

3. THE YULE LADS, ICELAND

13 troll-like characters, dressed in traditional Icelandic costume, visit children for the 13 days leading up to Christmas. Each night, children put their best shoes by the window and a different Yule Lad will visit, leaving gifts for the good kids and rotting potatoes for the naughty ones.

4. HIDDEN BROOMS, NORWAY

Centuries ago, the people of Norway believed that witches and evil spirits came out on Christmas Eve looking for brooms to ride. To this day, it's a Christmas Eve tradition to hide brooms in the safest place to avoid them being stolen.

5. ROLLER-BLADING, VENEZUELA

On Christmas Eve, residents of Caracas, Venezuela visit church early in the morning, on roller skates! This tradition has become so popular that many roads across the city are closed to cars so that people can attend church safely!

6. CAVALCADE OF LIGHTS, CANADA

The annual Cavalcade of Lights festival marks the start of Holiday Season in the city of Toronto. All of Nathan Phillips Square, including the Christmas tree, are illuminated by more than 300,000 LED lights. Visitors can also enjoy activities such as fireworks shows and outdoor ice skating.
